Course Plan

1. Course/Course Code

LLU3601- Legal System and Legal History of Sri Lanka

Dear Student,

Welcome to the LLU3601 Legal System and Legal History of Sri Lanka course. This Level 03 course is one of the compulsory courses that make up the Bachelor of Laws (Honours) Degree Programme. It is a 06-credit course which will require about 300 hours of study.

2. Objectives of the course

This course aims to enhance knowledge of the main features of the Sri Lankan Legal System, explaining it from a historical perspective. This course provides an understanding of Roman-Dutch Law, English Law, Kandyan Law, Tesawalamai Law and Muslim Law with the application of law and the contemporary developments of particular areas. It further examines the plural systems of law applied in Sri Lanka in light of Constitutional provisions and analyses the prospects of applying uniformly applicable laws. This course also discusses the court system of Sri Lanka and the Administrative of Justice through the courts from the pre-colonial period to the current system under the Second Republican Constitution 1978. This course is very important as it provides the foundation for you to study other courses, such as Family Law, Law of Contract, Land Law, Law of Delict etc., at higher levels.

3. Course content

Your course material consists of one Block, and it contains 16 sessions. You will be informed when supplementary material for the Legal System and Legal History of Sri Lanka is available on the Learning Management System (LMS) page.

1. A brief overview of the laws and institutions for the administration of justice in Sri Lanka in the Pre-Colonial period
2. Reception of Dutch laws during the British Period
3. Colonialism and its impact on the legal system of Sri Lanka – Reception of Roman-Dutch Law

7. Kandyan Law Part II - Contemporary Developments in Kandyan Law
8. Thesawalamai Law Part I - History and the Application of Law
9. Thesawalamai Law Part II - Contemporary Development in Thesawalamai Law
10. Muslim Law Part I - History and the Application of Law
11. Muslim Law Part II - Contemporary Developments in Muslim Law
12. Pluralism in the Sri Lankan Legal System and current trends. Scope and application of:
13. Administration of Justice in Sri Lanka: The Pre-Colonial Period
14. Administration of Justice in Sri Lanka: The Colonial Period
15. Administration of Justice in Sri Lanka: The Post-Colonial Period
16. Contemporary Challenges in the Administration of Justice in Sri Lanka

4. Delivery Mode

a) Day schools

In this course, 14-Day Schools of 2 hours duration (28 hours) will be held throughout the academic year. Though Day Schools are not compulsory, we advise all of you to attend Day Schools as it provides an opportunity to discuss problems you encounter in studying your course materials with your teacher.

Day Schools are a very important teaching-learning tool in the Open Distance Learning (ODL) system. It provides limited face-to-face sessions with teaching staff and learners at regional centres. The Day Schools are planned to deal with the sessions of this Block and to improve your knowledge regarding the concepts of the Legal System and the Legal History of Sri Lanka.

You are advised to work through the sessions of this Block and supplementary material before you attend the Day Schools. Since this course will be taught in English medium, the lectures will be conducted online via Zoom. The Zoom link and other necessary details will be provided through the LMS.

b) Seminars

In addition to the Day Schools, special seminars may be conducted in the regional centres.

5. Method of Assessment (CATs and final examination)

In the Open University study system, 40% of your examination marks are allocated for Continuous Assessment Tests (CATs) while the balance 60% of your examination marks are allocated for the final examination. This means you get an opportunity to earn a maximum of 40% of your examination marks before you sit for the final examination. It is seen therefore that obtaining marks on CAT tests is essential for the successful completion of a course.

You should obtain 35% Overall Continuous Assessment Marks (OCAM) to sit for the final examination. However, if you do not obtain 40 marks for the final examination, OCAM marks will not be added to the overall mark.

Assessment	Number of sessions to be covered	Duration
CAT I	Sessions 1 - 4	01 hour
CAT II	Sessions 1 - 7	01 hour
Final examination	Entire syllabus	03 hours

6. Supplementary materials (Printing/LMS-Moodle page)

In addition to the course materials, all cases, legislation and past examination papers relevant to your course are provided via LMS (online). You will be issued with a document at registration giving all relevant information including how you should register and how the password to access the online course could be obtained. You can express your view on issues that we raise at the online course and discuss academic matters to the course through this online facility. This online course will be of immense use, especially to busy employed students and the students in the regional centers as it helps them to maintain contact with their course coordinator/ Teacher online. Please follow Day Schools, read cases and legislations and update your knowledge through the online facility. Consider this course as one which provides knowledge regarding all laws that are applicable in Sri Lanka.

7. Recommended Readings

4. Delivery Mode

a) Day schools

In this course, 14-Day Schools of 2 hours duration (28 hours) will be held throughout the academic year. Though Day Schools are not compulsory, we advise all of you to attend Day Schools as it provides an opportunity to discuss problems you encounter in studying your course materials with your teacher.

Day Schools are a very important teaching-learning tool in the Open Distance Learning (ODL) system. It provides limited face-to-face sessions with teaching staff and learners at regional centres. The Day Schools are planned to deal with the sessions of this Block and to improve your knowledge regarding the concepts of the Constitutional Law.

You are advised to work through the sessions of this Block and supplementary material before you attend the Day Schools. Since this course will be taught in all three mediums, the lectures will be conducted onsite at the respective regional centers.

b) Seminars

In addition to the Day Schools, special seminars may be conducted in the regional centres.

5. Method of Assessment (CATs and final examination)

In the Open University study system, 40% of your examination marks are allocated for Continuous Assessment Tests (CATs) while the balance 60% of your examination marks are allocated for the final examination. This means you get an opportunity to earn a maximum of 40% of your examination marks before you sit for the final examination. It is seen therefore that obtaining marks on CAT tests is essential for the successful completion of a course.

You should obtain 35% Overall Continuous Assessment Marks (OCAM) to sit for the final examination. However, if you do not obtain 40 marks for the final examination, OCAM marks will not be added to the overall mark.

Assessment	Number of sessions to be covered	Duration
CAT I	Sessions 1 - 5	01 hour
CAT II	Sessions 6 - 12	01 hour
Final examination	Entire syllabus	03 hours

6. Supplementary materials (Printing/LMS page)

In addition to the course materials, all cases, legislation and past examination papers relevant to your course are provided via LMS (online). You will be issued with a document at registration giving all relevant information including how you should register and how the password to access the online course could be obtained. You can express your view on issues that we raise at the online course and discuss academic matters to the course through this online facility. This online course will be of immense use, especially to busy employed students and the students in the regional centres as it helps them to maintain contact with their course coordinator/ Teacher online. Please follow Day Schools, read cases and legislations and update your knowledge through the online facility.
